About time we had another newsletter I hear you say, but the problem has been having something to write about.

Due to a number of factors most of the events we had intended to run this year, mainly Hare and Hounds, have had to be cancelled for various reasons, land suddenly becoming unavailable, then lack of entries, altogether not a good year for the club. Even this time there is not a lot to talk about but some things are still happening and we are all still here!

The Errington Cup Trial is still on next Sunday with Brian Shuttleworth Clerk of the Course and Phyllis Sweeting Secretary of the Meeting. The venue is as usual Easterton Sands, lets hope we get a good entry.

The workers dinner is once again at the popular venue of the Dog & Fox at Bradford on Avon. Due to the lack of events you might think there aren't any workers this year, not true, we ran several events in the early part of the year and the club still has to be kept running with numerous jobs being done behind the scenes, for example, our Competitions Secretary, Chris Kelly has been busy arranging event dates for next year when we hope to be able to organise a more normal number, plus work by other members of the committee. So those involved will have been invited and we look forward to what has become one of our social highlights. Oh, and I had better mention, and thank, the organiser in chief Buster James aided by Babs Phelps.

We are again running our popular annual Dinner and Disco next year, it seems a long way off now, but it will soon come around. The usual organising team of Chris Kelly and Babs Phelps have already booked the venue and are making plans for the event, more of this later.

This just leaves me with the good news of our Enduro Team of member riders who have been entering the National Championships under the club's banner. Their latest effort has been the Dawn to Dusk 24 hour Enduro which they won in a very close fought competition at the South Wales venue. Our three riders Freddie Broadway, Tyson Mayton Jones and Dave Nuttal certainly carried the club's name in honour and our thanks goes to them and their team of helpers led by Clive Jones junior. At the recent club meeting our chairman, Frank Sweeting, read out an excellent report on the event, kindly produced by Paul Broadway, father of Freddie. So rather than write a second hand version it has been decided to copy Paul's report and include it with this newsletter. We shall also include it as an attachment with the newsletter on our website.

That's about it for this time so. All the best, Terry P
